San Bernardino Associated Governments, known as SANBAG, is the council of governments and transportation planning agency for San Bernardino County. SANBAG is responsible for cooperative regional planning and furthering an efficient multi-modal transportation system countywide. SANBAG serves the 1.9 million residents of San Bernardino County.

As the County Transportation Commission, SANBAG supports freeway construction projects, regional and local road improvements, train and bus transportation, railroad crossings, call boxes, ridesharing, congestion management efforts and long-term planning studies. SANBAG administers Measure I, the half-cent transportation sales tax approved by county voters in 1989.

The Community We Serve

Since its creation in 1973, SANBAG has performed transportation and regional planning services within the largest county in the contiguous United States. San Bernardino is a diverse county that encompasses approximately 20,000 square miles. It includes:

- Urban areas in the most populated communities of the southwest county;
- The growing Victor Valley comprised of four cities with expansive residential development;
- The resort communities of the San Bernardino Mountains and Colorado River; and
- The vast desert areas with scattered rural communities.

Unique mining resources abide in San Bernardino County's open desert spaces, which are also home to Joshua Tree National Park, the Mojave National Preserve, and the U.S. Army and Marine training and material depots. By the year 2025, this county of urban, suburban and rural character is forecast to grow to a total of 2.78 million residents.
